

AIFIS-MSU | CONFERENCE ON INDONESIAN STUDIES PARADIGMS AND NEW FRONTIERS

Version: Eastern Daylight Time (EDT, UTC-4)

PARADIGMS AND NEW FRONTIERS

The American Institute for Indonesian Studies (AIFIS), in collaboration with Michigan State University (MSU) Asian Studies Center, will hold the inaugural Conference on Indonesian Studies in 2021. The Conference seeks to expand research dissemination, activities, as well as collaboration on Indonesian studies. The Conference will be held in a virtual format with a goal of building and connecting networks of scholars and academic communities from a range of disciplines—within applied sciences, social sciences, and arts and humanities based in Indonesia and the United States, as well as Asia Pacific and other global contexts.

The 2021 AIFIS-MSU Conference on Indonesian Studies welcomes scholars with academic backgrounds and research expertise in history, culture, anthropology, sociology, language, and arts, and those advancing understandings of the ways that historical, sociocultural, economic, and political contexts shape contemporary and historical issues in Indonesia.

Conference Theme: Indonesian Studies - Paradigms and New Frontiers

The academic study of what is now referred to as Indonesia has several long, interwoven, and at times troubling, histories. What was once an area of inquiry borne from colonial curiosities and necessities has transformed into a broad, multi-disciplinary effort by Western and Indonesian scholars alike to better understand the archipelago's historical, cultural, linguistic, literary, artistic, economic, environmental, and political dimensions, as well as its role in the Indo-Pacific and the world.

The AIFIS-MSU inaugural bilingual conference on Indonesian studies celebrates the academic study of Indonesia and connects Indonesian scholars with Western colleagues. In this spirit of mutual intellectual inquiry, we welcome Indonesianists across disciplines to share their research, consider the state of our field, and to help to chart its future.

Wirda Mansur

Ahmad Fuadi

Carla Jones, University of Colorado, Boulder

Ahmad Najib Burhani, Indonesian Institute of Sciences

Siti Sarah Muwahidah, University of Edinburgh

An important trend in the scholarly study of Islam in Indonesia over the last couple decades has been the rise "popular Islam" -- films, novels, and social media trends that reflect an increase in public piety but also illuminate the religious and political predicaments of religion in a plural and democratic society. Join us for this innovative Plenary Session where well-known practitioners -- Hanung Bramantyo, Wirda Mansur, and Ahmad Fuadi -- discuss the religious and political impact of their work with scholars Carla Jones (University of Colorado, Boulder), Najib Burhani (LIPI), and Sarah Muwahidah (University of Edinburgh) who have observed these trends in popular Islam and public piety.

SPECIAL SESSION | 10:15 - 11:45 AM

OH (A Monologue by Putu Wijaya) World Premiere Staged Reading by Taksu Wijaya of the English translation by Cobina Gillit & Discussion with Translator and Performer

OH by Indonesian playwright Putu Wijaya, celebrates its world premiere reading in an English translation by Cobina Gillitt. Tackling themes of justice, truth, and generational difference, OH dramatizes the hallucination of an elderly accomplished lawyer who has been muted by a stroke. In his mind, he recalls the time when his son, also a renowned lawyer, visited and shared his thoughts about being the state-appointed defense council for a notorious drug dealer. His son won the case, but upon doing so became the target of a murderous mob.

This session will open with the playwright, Putu Wijaya's opening remarks prior to the reading. The reading by Taksu Wijaya will be followed by a discussion and Q&A session moderated by Tikka Sears.

SPECIAL SESSION | 10:30 AM - 2:30 PM

Traditional Art Performance – Virtual Wayang Performance of "Ciptaning" [Arjuna in Deep Meditation] by Dhalang Ki Purbo Asmoro and English Translation by Kathryn "Kitsie" Emerson

Ciptaning (Arjuna in Deep Meditation) is considered one of the deepest, most philosophical stories in the Javanese wayang kulit repertory. Arjuna, a hero of the Pandhawa family, explores his desire to delve into meditation while at the same time hanging on to his archery and battle skills. He is goaded by the gods in a number of ways, and manages to defend his belief that asceticism is not just for sages and priests, but can be practiced by warrior princes as well. This three-hour rendition by the world-renowned Ki Purbo Asmoro of Solo, is preceded by his brief explanation of the historical significance of this story, which dates back to 1040 CE. The performance will be streamed with English subtitles by Kitsie Emerson, and the chatline open for discussion among viewers. The recording link will also be available with Japanese, French, German, and Indonesian subtitles, as well as the Javanese transcript.
